California Heights Neighborhood news is a bi-monthly publication of the California Heights Neighborhood Association.

All residents are invited to contribute articles and opinions. We reserve the right to edit for clarity and brevity. Opinions expressed are not necessarily shared by all residents nor the editor. Our goal is to provide a voice to our community, keeping residents informed of issues affecting the quality of life in California Heights.

WALNUT AVENUE TREE CARE

Thank goodness for small favors! The break in our heat wave arrived just in time for our Saturday, July 29 Tree Care Event on Walnut Avenue. While still muggy, the clouds kept the hot sun off of our hardworking volunteers who came out to help get our young trees through this grueling summer.

Boy did they need us! Some were stout and healthy, but many were not much larger than the day they were planted. After three years, most, if not all of the trees should have been able to lose their stakes! Some suffered from drought, many were weed whacked due to grass growing at their feet, and a few had given up altogether - sad, considering the effort that went into getting them into the ground. And we never plant a tree where it is not requested. But, hey, that's why we have tree care days.

About twenty volunteers descended upon the street. From Cal Heights, Lakewood, Irvine, West Hollywood, LA, Culver City and the Valley, and even one resident from Walnut Avenue (thanks, Steve!), we weeded, pruned, removed sod, mulched and removed stakes from trees that were big enough to stand on their own. Finally, we deep watered all the needy trees in hopes of giving them another stab at life.

The average life of a street tree is just seven years! That means that most never live long enough to provide a shady walk or cool a house on a hot day, show off their spring flowers, their green canopies of summer, or their beautiful fall colors, not to mention their chance to absorb pollutants that lead to global warming. And any realtor will tell you that a treed street commands higher returns at sale time.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

In October we will be celebrating our 10th Home and Garden Tour. The tour, which was the inspiration of a few dedicated residents, has grown into one of the premier events in all of Long Beach.

Thanks to the efforts of John Reynolds, who has been our Main Sponsor for all ten years and the many, many other local businesses that assist us, we are able to provide an event that is right up there with any of the best home tours in Southern California.

I would like to thank the many Cal Heights residents who responded back to our request for volunteers. At its core, we need volunteers to keep the association and the many projects moving forward. Without you, our neighborhood would be just like any other neighborhood in Long Beach.

Keep up the good work Cal Heights residents.

Albert Guerra
CHNA President

PS- I would like to apologize to those of you who have tried to contact me via phone. I was unaware until recently that our answering machine was not recording your messages. We have replaced it and we are here to assist. You can always email me via the website if you cant get a hold of me by phone. Thanks for your patience.

Special thanks to residents donating to CHNA

Mabel also included a brief note with her contribution.

In April 1966 my husband and I felt most fortunate to buy our home [Rose Avenue]. Forty years later, as a widow in her late 80's, I'm most grateful to all of you "younger" people who are giving your time and energy into keeping Cal Heights a good place to live. I have my January 2004 Sunset magazine-if anyone were to doubt it.

SKATEBOARDING, SCOOTERING AND ROLLERBLADING IN CAL HEIGHTS

Recently, one of our Cal Heights teen residents wrote a letter to Phil Hester, the Director of Parks, Marine and Recreation, requesting that a Skate Board Park be built in Cal Heights or in a nearby location.

Unfortunately, Cal Heights has no empty lots and building any kind of park has been unfeasible. But the request for a skate park spurred an idea. Why not bring the Skate Park on Wheels program to Cal Heights?

The Skate Park on Wheels program began providing services on June 16, 2001 and this year are celebrating recreational activities to all skateboarders, rollerbladers in our 5th Anniversary as the premier mobile skate park program. The program offers skate ramps, rails and scooter enthusiast in Long Beach. The Skate Park on Wheels program sets up at 6 different sites Monday thru Saturday all year long. The program offers a safe and fun environment for participants to practice and refine "tricks" of their chosen sport. Skate Park on Wheels also hosts an annual amateur skate competition with different skill level divisions so that the skateboarders of Long Beach can show their stuff, win great prizes and claim the title "Best Skateboarder in Long Beach".

On Saturday, August 26th from 2 - 5 pm the Mobile Skate Board on Wheels will be coming to Cal Heights. They will be set up between Hughes Middle School and Longfellow School. This is the space that is normally closed during school hours.

The Mobile Skate Board on Wheels truck has a limited amount of boards, scooters and protective gear i. e. helmet, knee and elbow pads for participants to use. Bring your own gear if you have it. All safety equipment must be worn and your equipment must check out for safety. All participants must complete a safety waiver signed by a parent/guardian. Bicycles are not permitted on the skate elements.

So come out and join the fun! Who knows? If we get enough people there we might be able to do this on a regular basis?

I would like to thank in advance our Council Person Tonia Reyes-Uranga, Phil Hester and Toni Y. Ford-Hixon from the Community Outreach & Mobile Programs department for assisting us with putting this project together.

MODERN BLOOM

Modern Bloom has opened a storefront inside Banana Berry, a hip marketplace, located at 1092 East Wardlow Road. Modern Bloom is a full-service florist offering exquisite floral arrangements for special events, special occasions, weddings and corporate accounts.

Modern Bloom also offers floral design services for your home, offering scheduled weekly and monthly floral arrangement deliveries in the Long Beach area.

In addition to unique floral offerings, Modern Bloom carries quite a selection of succulents, which are offered for sale individually or planted in unique containers. We also carry an incredible selection of modern and vintage pottery.

Modern Bloom is open Wednesday through Saturday 11:00 to 6:00 and by appointment. Owner, Stacey Grosz, can be reached at 562-841-2220.

THE KIDS ART ZONE

Pam Allred has fulfilled a dream of hers to have her own space for children of all ages to come and be creative through different mediums of art. Kaz opened in June with summer classes in the mornings and afternoons. Also, Saturdays are open studio to create with clay, mosaic, collage and more drawing and painting. Every week has it's own special theme.

The mission Pam has is to give children a safe and friendly place to come and learn basic techniques of art by using the 5 Basic Elements of Shape. Through her lessons the children begin to see that drawing is not as hard as it seems. Pam has been teaching an after school program at Naples Bayside Academy for the last 3 years. She is a mother of two teenage boys and loves working with kids.

Please come by and check out this special creative place in Cal Heights. Phone is 562-537-3145. Summer hours are 10-3 and Sat. 11-3. Birthday parties are available as KAZ as well..... Pam would also like to extend classes for adults in the fall.

KAZ~ Kids Art Zone is located in Banana Berry Marketplace at 1090 E. Wardlow Road.

California Heights Lamp Post Restoration Moves Ahead

After a long delay, the Cal Heights Lamp Post Restoration project is moving forward with the replacement of all lamp post globe assemblies along Orange Ave. from Wardlow Road to Bixby Road. For those residents not familiar with the restoration project, it began in 2000. The lamp posts in our neighborhood were originally installed in the 1930's. Over the years, they have been altered and, at times, ill maintained due to the economics of the time. The Cal Heights Neighborhood Association decided to offer an "Adopt a Lamp Post" program to fund the restoration.

The original lamp posts had a heavy glass globe with an iron cage assembly topped with a decorative finial. There are some intact posts remaining, but the bulk have suffered over the years. We had one initial order, but the momentum was lost, due to funding issues. At the last Board of Director's meeting for the neighborhood association, we voted to fund the restoration of the posts along Orange Ave. Since it is a major artery in our neighborhood and is also the location of the mural, the Board thought it was a great place to invest the money. In addition to the Orange Ave. posts, we will be restoring those lamp posts that have been ordered in the past few years but were on hold, due to minimum order restrictions. A total of 30 lamp post will be restored. The estimated time for the installation is sometime in late October.

The estimated total cost for this phase is $17,900. The bulk of the funding comes from the Home Tour fundraiser we hold every year. This year is our 10th annual Home Tour and we ask that you participate. Your community support will benefit all of Cal Heights. If you would like to restore a lamp post or contribute to our project, please see the form available on the website, calheights.org. The order will be placed mid-September. Since the minimum order is 24, there will be a wait until we raise the funds for another order. If you are considering restoring the post in front of you home, now is the time to do it. Thank you to everyone who has supported our project over the years. Hopefully, the gleaming new lamp posts along Orange will be an inspiration to restore every lamp post in Cal Heights!

AIRPORT UPDATE

I have worked hard to protect California Heights from the impacts of the Long Beach Airport because protecting the quality of life in our neighborhoods is my top priority.

I understand that residents throughout our city are concerned about environmental impacts from the Port, Freeways and Airport. The impacts of the airport are not limited to noise that disrupts our children at schools, customers at our businesses, or our friends and families at home – increased activity at the airport affects how we, as a community, balance the need to protect our neighborhoods against the pressures of economic expansion. I have fought to protect residents from the harmful effects of air pollution and feel that we won major concessions to limit to scope of potential airport terminal improvements.

Many questions have been raised regarding the City Council's decision to certify the Environmental Impact Report (EIR) and the conditions that were included to protect the neighborhoods. I made the motion to include the following neighborhood protection measures to be adopted as a condition for the City Council's vote to certify the EIR:

- Limit parking positions to a maximum of 12 aircrafts at the terminal;
- Adopt a sound attenuation program for schools and homes; and,
- Develop a mitigation monitoring program for residents and businesses.

These measures impose significant constraints on potential growth at the airport and effectively provide what individuals opposed to certification had requested. By including these measures as conditions in the EIR, we avoided costly FAA requirements and possible legal challenges to the noise ordinance that limits flights.

It should be noted that it was not the will of the City Council, including my colleagues who represent other airport-impacted communities, to de-certify the EIR. This position was made clear by the fact that the City Council did not approve a motion by Council Member Patrick O'Donnell, which I seconded, to continue the certification vote for a minimum of 60 days and direct staff and the consultants to provide further study on the use of Parcel O for private aircraft and additional mitigation measures.

Also at the June 20, 2006 meeting, the City Council voted 4-3 to approve a conceptual site plan of 97,545 sq. ft. of maximum terminal capacity. While this is significantly smaller than the 133,000 sq ft that was originally referred for City Council approval back in February 2005, I voted with Council Members O'Donnell and Gabelich to limit the size of the proposed terminal to the smaller site plan of 79,725 sq. ft., but that vote also failed. Like the 102,000 sq. ft. plan that the City Council approved for purposes of "scoping" the EIR, this 97,545 sq. ft. plan can be amended at any time, independent of the actions to certify the EIR.

It is very important to understand that certification of an EIR does not equate to approving a project. The EIR provides policy makers with information regarding a range of predefined impacts – including traffic, dust, noise, toxic exposure, water contamination – that would occur during the construction and operation of a proposed facility. It is also important to understand identifying "significant impacts" would not prevent a project from being approved – an EIR is an informational document that is intended to disclose potential impacts.

To further bolster our ability to protect neighborhoods, I placed a motion, on the July 1, 2006 City Council agenda, to extend the statutory time limit allowed under the California Environment Quality Act (CEQA) for appellants to negotiate with the City to address perceived inadequacies in the EIR. I did this because I felt that the EIR could be strengthened without removing the three conditions that were previously adopted to mitigate the impacts. I feel that additional time will allow the appellants and the City to work collaboratively towards a mutually agreeable position that will protect our neighborhoods by upholding the limits on flights as prescribed under the noise ordinance.

Please keep in mind – the City Council has not approved a terminal improvement project at this time.

And regardless of the outcome of the EIR vote, we have to contend with current operational issues such as excessive helicopter and small craft activity as well as the routine curfew violations from late night/early morning flight activity. We must remain vigilant and continue to report noise violations as they occur and not tolerate excessive airport activity. The final vote to approve a new terminal is yet to come and I will need your support at that time to ensure that California Heights is fully protected from the unwanted impacts of the airport.

I will be holding meetings throughout the district to discuss this important topic. You can also get updates on the ongoing saga of the Airport by visiting my website at <http://www.longbeach.gov/district7/default.asp> or to sign-up for our e-notify email subscription service to receive notices. As always, please feel free to contact me at (562) 570-6139 should you have any questions regarding the airport or other community concerns.

Thank you once again for your continued support and involvement in our community.

Tonia Reyes-Uranga
7th District Councilmember

RESTORE, PRESERVE AND EXHALT!

I stood for some time admiring the craftsmanship of our newly purchased historic home. How best to approach restoration of this gem in the rough, so lovingly built more than eighty years ago? As ideas passed before my mind's eye, I wondered: How shall I begin assessment of this special home and its surroundings so not to miss any of its hidden assets? How best to proceed with design and construction to carefully preserve the original architectural features and make the most of its potential? Additionally, how do I remain within budget and still arrive at a functional and aesthetically unified living space?

If, like me, you find yourself in this position with your own historic home, then I'd say you've come to the right place! As an historic consultant and designer it is indeed my pleasure to welcome you to my column. My goal is to inspire you to action and help guide you through the paths of successful home improvement while providing a good read for those interested in architecture, architectural history and the pursuit of its truth and beauty. This first installment is devoted to orientation. So, let the fun begin!

HOMEWORK FIRST

Always look before you leap. The first thing I do is to start a journal. Putting things in writing makes them more tangible. List what you would like to accomplish. Include practical living needs and aesthetic preferences, along with your budgetary allowances. Also, include an inventory of your home's architectural assets. Take care to insure that your choices remain compatible with your duty to preserve and honor its historic architecture. Think how you would like the space to feel and assign a few adjectives or phrases to characterize that feeling, such as cozy, dramatic or understated, spacious, invigorating or meditative.

Next, visit an architectural bookstore such as Hennessey & Engalls in Santa Monica or Book Soup at South Coast Plaza. Find books that have both large color photos and informative text. Take time to study examples that pertain to your area of focus. If you are doing the work yourself, supplement with how-to books. Review your journal often. As your ideas evolve, add entries and attach photos of finished products you prefer. Also, tour historic homes and ranchos open to the public. The Gamble House and Lummis Home are two must see destinations. Remember to bring your journal! Over a couple of months, you'll notice your aesthetic sense becoming more finely attuned and the effects you desire becoming clearer. This is exactly what's supposed to happen! Your homework will begin to pay off, and you will be ready to speak with professional tradesmen.

DESIGNERS, ARCHITECTS AND CONTRACTORS

Even if you are a do-it-yourselfer, you'll likely be using one or more of these professionals. Well conceived home improvement generally begins with either conceptual or working drawings. If you have the design vision and the skill to articulate it on paper, make accurate scale drawings of the elevations needed to convey your ideas to the contractor. If not, hire a historic home savvy designer. Share your ideas, journal and photos of projects that most closely reveal the look and feel you desire. Socially and spatially gifted designers can readily assess all of a client's information, comment on what is workable and return with a set of elevation drawings that represent their client's vision.

Architects are needed for major additions and have working knowledge of practical engineering aspects of design, construction and building codes. Architects create precise working drawings with technical specifications needed for the building and planning commission to issue permits and for contractors who will build the project. Architects often interface with designers, fine tuning stylistic details and aesthetics of the architectural drawings in accordance with their client's wishes.

The key to success with architects is to find a good match between your personalities and your visions for the project. Interview architects who specialize in historic home improvement. Look at their finished projects and gather feedback from their clients. Trust your intuition. You should know when you've found a match!

Contractors have a decidedly different set of skills and should not be expected to design your project. Contractors implement the project by closely referencing the conceptual and working drawings created by your designer or architect. They should be knowledgeable about the physical properties and appropriate utilization of specific construction materials and can assist with the selection of those materials best suited to your purpose. Make sure you have good chemistry and communication, especially if you are a do-it-yourselfer.

PROCESS, PRODUCT AND QUALITY

Successful historic home improvement is measured by the final product, to be sure, but the process can be an interesting and engaging learning experience as well. I encourage you to be patient and flexible so that you may enjoy the journey. Remember, there are many methods in construction and design. Use quality materials and hire skilled professionals and your projects should have successful outcomes.

Pursue the path that best meets your practical and aesthetic needs while honoring your home's architecture and you will enhance the quality of your own life and contribute to the beautification and sense of community in your neighborhood as well. Isn't that what it's all about?

Celebrating Ten Years California Heights Annual Home & Garden Tour

TICKETS NOW ON SALE

Join us on Sunday, October 1st, 2006 from 11:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. to celebrate the California Heights Annual Home & Garden Tour's Tenth Anniversary. This year's tour will revisit four great homes from past tours and debut two previously unseen homes.

Homes showcased on this year's tour include:

An English Tudor, featured in 1997, underwent some unfortunate interior changes under a series of owners. New homeowners completed a sensitive restoration that includes a complete kitchen and breakfast nook remodel, restoration of the existing bathrooms, living room fireplace and re-landscaping of the garden.

A Mission Revival, featured in 2001, recently received a sensitive addition that includes a complete kitchen remodel and a master bedroom and bath addition to the rear of the home.

A Spanish Colonial Revival, featured in 2001, recently received an upstairs bath remodel and is worth revisiting just to see the beautiful garden complete with koi pond.

A Spanish Colonial Revival, featured in 2003, with a sensitive addition to the rear of the home so impressed former City of Long Beach Historic Preservation Officer, Ruthann Lehrer, that she toured the house three times.

Debuting this year is a classic Neo-traditional style home with beautiful landscaping and recently completed kitchen remodel as well as an eclectic bungalow that received an overall facelift after being neglected by prior owners.

Generously sponsored by John Reynolds the tour will again include gourmet box lunches by Delius Restaurant, floral centerpieces by Bixby Knolls Florist, a variety of talented musicians and the little red trolley to pick up and drop off riders near

TREES ON WALNUT

Please take a few minutes a year to help insure the survival of our street trees. Deep water young trees every four to six weeks, and mature trees, except coast live oaks, every six to eight weeks in summer. Ask your gardener to maintain a sod free area around the base to prevent weed whacker damage. These two simple steps will prevent the demise of most of our trees. Hopefully, they will provide for generations!

California Heights ReLeaf thanks all of the volunteers for their hard work. Once again, we owe arborist Jen Lifland and Tree People Los Angeles a heartfelt thanks for all they continue to do to help ReLeaf California Heights. Thanks to B&B Hardware for the use of their jumbo ice chest that kept our refreshments frosty! Also, thanks to OSH for the discounted mulch. Thanks to Lakewood Women's Club and the Seventh District Office for sending in troops. And not least, we thank the resident that heeded our request and left a garbage can and garden hose near the parkway!

Oh, I must mention resident Dolores, who cared so much about her trees that she insisted upon a care lesson before she would allow us to touch them. Now that's what we're talkin' about! Good luck with your crape myrtles, Delores, and thanks for caring.

Ivy in the Yard of 3707 Gardenia

To start with, Mom and Dad bought one of the last three vacant lots in the 3700 block of Gardenia Avenue in 1948. That next year the back house was built which was later to become the garage you see today. Five years later the regular set back house was built and completed in 1956.

Mom and Dad didn't want any part of mowing grass so they planted a wide leaf variegated ivy where most people would have had a grass lawn. The parkway had a small flowered orange gazania.

Ivy is really very hard to kill, and very drought tolerant and easy to maintain. It does have a habit of growing over the walkways and sidewalks. Combine those simple conditions along with some nice mature parkway trees, and all one must do after just a little rain is go out and hack back the ivy. I got a taste of trimming the ivy while Mom was on vacation a number of years back. This prompted me to let her know that if I was ever put in charge of keeping it trimmed, out it would come and something more realistic put in its place like succulents and cactus. In the late spring of 2003 Mom alerted me that she was ready to call it quits and I began a six-month eradication of nearly two-foot high wide leafed ivy of 47 years. Oh, and there was also a smallish English green ivy in the back yard too which came out.

Now not only is the ivy gone, but the three mature carob trees became diseased recently and had to be removed. I wouldn't have wanted the city to deal with the very warped looking sidewalks until the trees were gone. Now we have nice and flat sidewalks and a finally near completely new dry garden look.
